Eric Kaufman is an author and founder of the Natural Resilience Foundation (NRF), with more than 33 years of experience buying, selling and financing nearly $1 billion in commercial real estate. A visionary developer and financing expert, his recent efforts include being the co-founder of the NY Wheel in Staten Island, NY, modeled after the London Eye, giant Ferris Wheel. Now he brings climate resilience to the lexicon of urban planning and real estate development.

Panel 4: Investing in Climate Resilience: Resilient Investments and Investments in Resilience